

Private jet to Iceland, sail to Scandinavia on maiden voyage of Seabourn Sojourn depart 6th or 11th June 2010

This very special holiday starts with a flight to Iceland on a luxurious ten seat Gulfstream private jet from a small private terminal at London Luton Airport. On arrival at Reykjavik you will be transported by limousine to the fabulous Seabourn Sojourn, a small luxury cruise ship that will be just six days into her maiden voyage. Your cruise will take you to Norway and Holland before arrival at the port of Dover after nine nights on board.

Alternatively you may cruise out and fly home with five nights aboard Seabourn Sojourn, sailing from Greenwich in east London. You will have a day at Invergordon in Scotland, and Torshavn in the Faeroe Islands before arriving at Reykjavik. Here you will have a full day excursion around the island before your early evening flight home. Being so far north in midsummer there will be almost 24 hours of daylight, during one of Iceland's warmest months.

YOUR AIRCRAFT

A Gulfstream G4 intercontinental private jet flying direct from the Signature Aviation private jet terminal at London Luton Airport. Ten passengers will occupy tables of two with a large picture window for which Gulfstream jets are famous. You will fly at 42,000 feet on the three hour flight whilst enjoying sumptuous cocktails and catering on board. A Bath Travel in-flight escort will ensure your connecting services of transport and luggage are organised at each end of this exotic flight experience.
